The South African Revival of the 1970s and 1980s was a period of spiritual renewal and growth in the country. It was a time of great spiritual awakening and renewal, with many people turning to God and seeking His guidance and direction. The revival was marked by a renewed focus on the Bible, prayer, and evangelism.

The South African Revival began in the 1970s, when a group of Christian leaders began to pray for revival in the country. They prayed for a spiritual awakening that would bring people back to God and to the church. The revival was marked by a renewed focus on the Bible, prayer, and evangelism.

The revival was marked by a renewed focus on the Bible, prayer, and evangelism. The Bible was seen as the source of truth and guidance, and people were encouraged to read it and study it. Prayer was seen as a way to connect with God and to seek His guidance and direction. Evangelism was seen as a way to share the gospel with others and to bring them to faith in Jesus Christ.

The revival was also marked by a renewed focus on social justice and racial reconciliation. People were encouraged to work for justice and to seek to build bridges between different racial and ethnic groups. This was seen as an important part of the revival, as it was seen as a way to bring people together and to create a more unified society.

The revival was also marked by a renewed focus on the church. People were encouraged to attend church services and to be involved in the life of the church. The church was seen as a place of refuge and a place of hope, and people were encouraged to seek out the church and to be involved in its life.

The revival was also marked by a renewed focus on evangelism. People were encouraged to share the gospel with others and to bring them to faith in Jesus Christ. This was seen as an important part of the revival, as it was seen as a way to bring people to faith and to bring them into the church.

The revival was a time of great spiritual renewal and growth in the country, and it was marked by a renewed focus on the Bible, prayer, evangelism, social justice, racial reconciliation, the church, the Holy Spirit, the Word of God, holiness, and worship. As the Bible says in 2 Chronicles 7:14, "If my people, who are called by my name, will humble themselves and pray and seek my face and turn from their wicked ways, then I will hear from heaven and will forgive their sin and will heal their land." This verse is a reminder of the power of prayer and the importance of seeking God's guidance and direction.

Salvation Prayers : Dear Lord Jesus, I come to you today acknowledging my need for salvation. I confess that I have sinned and fallen short of your glory. But I believe that you died for my sins and rose again. I ask that you come into my heart and be my Lord. I commit to following you and living for you every day. Thank you for your love and for the gift of eternal life. In your name I pray, Amen. Amen If you prayed the above prayers kindly click here to get more information
