The Word in the New Testament is a term used to refer to Jesus Christ, the Son of God. It is used throughout the New Testament to refer to Jesus as the embodiment of God's Word. The term is used to emphasize the importance of Jesus as the source of salvation and the fulfillment of God's promises.

I. What is The Word in the New Testament?

The Word in the New Testament is a term used to refer to Jesus Christ, the Son of God. It is used throughout the New Testament to refer to Jesus as the embodiment of God's Word. The term is used to emphasize the importance of Jesus as the source of salvation and the fulfillment of God's promises.

The term is derived from the Greek word logos, which is used in the Gospel of John to refer to Jesus. In John 1:1, it says, "In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God." This verse is often used to emphasize the divinity of Jesus and his role as the source of salvation.

The Word is also used to refer to Jesus in other passages of the New Testament. In Colossians 1:15-20, Paul writes, "He is the image of the invisible God, the firstborn of all creation. For by him all things were created, in heaven and on earth, visible and invisible, whether thrones or dominions or rulers or authorities—all things were created through him and for him. And he is before all things, and in him all things hold together. And he is the head of the body, the church. He is the beginning, the firstborn from the dead, that in everything he might be preeminent. For in him all the fullness of God was pleased to dwell, and through him to reconcile to himself all things, whether on earth or in heaven, making peace by the blood of his cross.•

II. Biblical References to The Word

The Word is used throughout the New Testament to refer to Jesus. In Matthew 4:4, Jesus says, “It is written, ‘Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that comes from the mouth of God.’”• This verse emphasizes the importance of Jesus as the source of salvation and the fulfillment of God’s promises.

In John 1:14, it says, “And the Word became flesh and dwelt among us, and we have seen his glory, glory as of the only Son from the Father, full of grace and truth.”• This verse emphasizes the divinity of Jesus and his role as the source of salvation.

In 1 John 5:7, it says, “For there are three that bear witness in heaven: the Father, the Word, and the Holy Spirit, and these three are one.”• This verse emphasizes the unity of the Trinity and the importance of Jesus as the source of salvation.

III. The Significance of The Word

The Word is used throughout the New Testament to emphasize the importance of Jesus as the source of salvation and the fulfillment of God’s promises. Jesus is the Word of God, and he is the embodiment of God’s love and grace. He is the source of salvation and the fulfillment of God’s promises.

The Word is also used to emphasize the unity of the Trinity. Jesus is the Word of God, and he is in perfect unity with the Father and the Holy Spirit. This unity is essential for salvation and for the fulfillment of God’s promises.
