Domestic violence in marriage is a serious issue that affects many couples, regardless of their religious beliefs. Unfortunately, it is also an issue that is often overlooked in the Christian community. While the Bible does not condone violence in any form, there are certain passages that can be interpreted as condoning domestic violence in marriage. In this blog post, we will explore the causes of domestic violence in marriage in the Christian faith, as well as provide some resources for those who are affected by it.

Domestic violence in marriage is a complex issue, and there are many factors that can contribute to it. One of the most common causes of domestic violence in marriage in the Christian faith is a lack of understanding of the Bible. Many Christians believe that the Bible condones domestic violence in marriage, citing passages such as Ephesians 5:22-24, which states, "Wives, submit to your husbands as to the Lord. For the husband is the head of the wife as Christ is the head of the church, his body, of which he is the Savior. Now as the church submits to Christ, so also wives should submit to their husbands in everything." This passage is often interpreted as a justification for domestic violence in marriage, as it implies that wives should submit to their husbands in all matters.

Another cause of domestic violence in marriage in the Christian faith is a lack of communication between spouses. Many couples fail to communicate effectively, which can lead to misunderstandings and disagreements that can escalate into violence. Additionally, some couples may not be aware of the resources available to them, such as counseling or support groups, which can help them to resolve their issues in a healthy and constructive manner.

Rededication Prayers : Dear Lord Jesus, I come to you today with a heart of repentance. I confess that I have strayed from your path and have not been living according to your will. But I am here to rededicate myself to you and to make a commitment to follow you with all my heart. I ask for your forgiveness and for the strength and guidance to walk in your ways. I thank you for your love, grace, and mercy. I give you my all, my heart, my mind, my soul, and my strength, I trust in you and I pray this in Jesus' name, Amen. Amen
