Social media has become an integral part of our lives. We use it to stay connected with our friends and family, to share our thoughts and feelings, and to stay informed about the world around us. But, like anything else, too much of a good thing can be bad. Social media addiction is a real problem, and it can have a serious impact on our mental health.

The Bible tells us that “the heart is deceitful above all things and desperately wicked: who can know it?” (Jeremiah 17:9). This is a reminder that we must be careful not to let our hearts be deceived by the false promises of social media. We must be aware of the potential dangers of social media addiction and take steps to protect our mental health.
