The Word in the New Testament is a term used to refer to Jesus Christ, the Son of God. It is a term that is used throughout the New Testament to refer to Jesus and his teachings. The Word is also used to refer to the message of salvation that Jesus brought to the world.

The Word is used in the New Testament to refer to Jesus in a number of ways. In John 1:1-3, it is written: “In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. He was in the beginning with God. All things were made through him, and without him was not any thing made that was made.” This passage is referring to Jesus as the Word of God, and it is saying that Jesus was with God in the beginning and that all things were made through him.

In John 1:14, it is written: “And the Word became flesh and dwelt among us, and we have seen his glory, glory as of the only Son from the Father, full of grace and truth.” This passage is referring to Jesus as the Word of God who became flesh and dwelt among us.

In Colossians 1:15-17, it is written: “He is the image of the invisible God, the firstborn of all creation. For by him all things were created, in heaven and on earth, visible and invisible, whether thrones or dominions or rulers or authorities—all things were created through him and for him. And he is before all things, and in him all things hold together.” This passage is referring to Jesus as the Word of God who is the image of the invisible God and who created all things.
