Corruption is a major problem in many countries, and it is also present in the Christian faith. Petty corruption is a form of corruption that involves small amounts of money or favors, and it is often seen as a minor offense. In this blog post, we will explore the issue of petty corruption in Christianity, and how it can be addressed. We will also look at some Bible verses that speak to the issue of corruption, and provide some discussion questions and FAQs to help readers better understand the issue.

What is Petty Corruption?

Petty corruption is a form of corruption that involves small amounts of money or favors. It is often seen as a minor offense, and is usually done for personal gain. Examples of petty corruption include bribery, nepotism, and embezzlement. Petty corruption is often seen as a way to get ahead in life, and it can be difficult to detect and prosecute.

Bible Verses on Corruption

The Bible has a lot to say about corruption. Here are some of the most relevant verses:

Proverbs 28:8: “Whoever multiplies his wealth by interest and profit gathers it for him who is generous to the poor.”

Proverbs 29:4: “By justice a king builds up the land, but he who exacts gifts tears it down.”

Ecclesiastes 7:7: “Surely oppression drives the wise into madness, and a bribe corrupts the heart.”

Matthew 6:24: “No one can serve two masters, for either he will hate the one and love the other, or he will be devoted to the one and despise the other. You cannot serve God and money.”
