Sex education is a controversial topic in many conservative circles, with many religious groups and individuals expressing strong opposition to its inclusion in public schools. This resistance is rooted in a variety of beliefs, including the idea that sex education is immoral and should be left to parents to teach their children. In this blog post, we will explore the resistance to sex education from conservative groups, particularly those with a Christian perspective.

Biblical Basis for Resistance

Many conservative Christians believe that sex education is contrary to the teachings of the Bible. They point to passages such as Proverbs 5:18-19, which states, "Let your fountain be blessed, and rejoice in the wife of your youth, a lovely deer, a graceful doe. Let her breasts fill you at all times with delight; be intoxicated always in her love." This passage is often interpreted as a warning against premarital sex, and thus, sex education is seen as promoting something that is contrary to God's will.

Salvation Prayers : Dear Lord Jesus, I come to you today acknowledging my need for salvation. I confess that I have sinned and fallen short of your glory. But I believe that you died for my sins and rose again. I ask that you come into my heart and be my Lord. I commit to following you and living for you every day. Thank you for your love and for the gift of eternal life. In your name I pray, Amen.

Other Christians point to passages such as 1 Corinthians 6:18-20, which states, "Flee from sexual immorality. All other sins a person commits are outside the body, but whoever sins sexually, sins against their own body. Do you not know that your bodies are temples of the Holy Spirit, who is in you, whom you have received from God? You are not your own; you were bought at a price. Therefore honor God with your bodies." This passage is often interpreted as a call to abstain from sexual activity until marriage, and thus, sex education is seen as promoting something that is contrary to God's will.

Rededication Prayers : Dear Lord Jesus, I come to you today with a heart of repentance. I confess that I have strayed from your path and have not been living according to your will. But I am here to rededicate myself to you and to make a commitment to follow you with all my heart. I ask for your forgiveness and for the strength and guidance to walk in your ways. I thank you for your love, grace, and mercy. I give you my all, my heart, my mind, my soul, and my strength, I trust in you and I pray this in Jesus' name, Amen. Amen

Fear of Promoting Immorality

Many conservative Christians also believe that sex education promotes immorality by encouraging premarital sex and other forms of sexual activity. They argue that sex education encourages young people to engage in sexual activity before they are ready, and that this can lead to negative consequences such as unwanted pregnancies and sexually transmitted diseases. They also argue that sex education can lead to a breakdown in traditional family values, as it encourages young people to explore their sexuality without the guidance of their parents.

Fear of Normalizing Homosexuality

Another common concern among conservative Christians is that sex education will normalize homosexuality. They argue that sex education will teach young people that homosexuality is an acceptable lifestyle, and that this will lead to an increase in homosexual behavior. They also argue that sex education will lead to a breakdown in traditional family values, as it encourages young people to explore their sexuality without the guidance of their parents.
