Revivals bring lack of lasting transformation and discipleship

Revivals are a time of spiritual renewal and growth in the Christian faith. They are often seen as a time of great spiritual awakening and transformation. However, there is a lack of lasting transformation and discipleship that often follows revivals. This lack of lasting transformation and discipleship can be attributed to a number of factors, including a lack of commitment to the teachings of Jesus, a lack of understanding of the gospel, and a lack of accountability.

I. What is a Revival?

A revival is a period of spiritual renewal and growth in the Christian faith. It is a time of spiritual awakening and transformation, where people come together to worship, pray, and learn about the teachings of Jesus. Revivals often involve large gatherings of people, with speakers and musicians leading the way.

II. Why is there a lack of lasting transformation and discipleship?

A. Lack of Commitment to the Teachings of Jesus

One of the main reasons for the lack of lasting transformation and discipleship is a lack of commitment to the teachings of Jesus. Many people attend revivals, but do not take the time to truly understand and apply the teachings of Jesus to their lives. As the Bible says in Matthew 7:24-27, "Therefore everyone who hears these words of mine and puts them into practice is like a wise man who built his house on the rock. The rain came down, the streams rose, and the winds blew and beat against that house; yet it did not fall, because it had its foundation on the rock. But everyone who hears these words of mine and does not put them into practice is like a foolish man who built his house on sand. The rain came down, the streams rose, and the winds blew and beat against that house, and it fell with a great crash.”

B. Lack of Understanding of the Gospel

Another reason for the lack of lasting transformation and discipleship is a lack of understanding of the gospel. Many people attend revivals, but do not take the time to truly understand the gospel and how it applies to their lives. As the Bible says in Romans 10:14-17, “How, then, can they call on the one they have not believed in? And how can they believe in the one of whom they have not heard? And how can they hear without someone preaching to them? And how can anyone preach unless they are sent? As it is written: ‘How beautiful are the feet of those who bring good news!’ But not all the Israelites accepted the good news. For Isaiah says, ‘Lord, who has believed our message?’ Consequently, faith comes from hearing the message, and the message is heard through the word of Christ.”

C. Lack of Accountability

Finally, there is a lack of accountability that often follows revivals. Many people attend revivals, but do not take the time to truly commit to the teachings of Jesus and to live out their faith in their daily lives. As the Bible says in James 1:22-25, “Do not merely listen to the word, and so deceive yourselves. Do what it says. Anyone who listens to the word but does not do what it says is like someone who looks at his face in a mirror and, after looking at himself, goes away and immediately forgets what he looks like. But whoever looks intently into the perfect law that gives freedom, and continues in it—not forgetting what they have heard, but doing it—they will be blessed in what they do.”

III. Conclusion

In conclusion, revivals bring a lack of lasting transformation and discipleship. This lack of lasting transformation and discipleship can be attributed to a number of factors, including a lack of commitment to the teachings of Jesus, a lack of understanding of the gospel, and a lack of accountability. As Christians, it is important that we take the time to truly understand and apply the teachings of Jesus to our lives, and to live out our faith in our daily lives.
