Philosophy, on the other hand, is the study of the fundamental nature of knowledge, reality, and existence. It is a discipline that seeks to understand the nature of truth and how it applies to our lives. The two disciplines are closely related, and the role of philosophy in guiding the theology of the Church is an important one.

The Bible is the foundation of Christian theology, and it is the source of all Christian beliefs. However, the Bible does not provide a comprehensive explanation of all theological concepts. This is where philosophy comes in. Philosophy provides a framework for interpreting the Bible and understanding its teachings. It helps to explain the meaning of the Bible and how it applies to our lives.
