Stewardship and Business Ethics in Christianity

The Bible teaches that God has given us the responsibility to be good stewards of the resources He has provided. As Christians, we are called to use our resources wisely and ethically in all aspects of our lives, including our businesses.

What is Stewardship?

Stewardship is the responsible management of resources entrusted to us by God. It is a way of life that reflects our commitment to God and His will for our lives. We are called to be good stewards of all that God has given us, including our time, talents, and finances.

What is Business Ethics?

Business ethics is the application of ethical principles to the business world. It is the practice of conducting business in a way that is consistent with the moral and ethical values of the Christian faith. Business ethics involves making decisions that are in line with the teachings of the Bible and that are beneficial to all stakeholders, including customers, employees, and the community.

The Bible and Stewardship

The Bible is full of passages that emphasize the importance of stewardship. In the book of Proverbs, we are told to “honor the Lord with your wealth, with the firstfruits of all your crops” (Proverbs 3:9). In the book of Luke, Jesus tells us to “make friends for yourselves by means of unrighteous wealth, so that when it fails they may receive you into the eternal dwellings” (Luke 16:9). These passages remind us that we are to be good stewards of our resources and use them to honor God and help others.

The Bible and Business Ethics

The Bible also provides guidance on how to conduct business ethically. In the book of James, we are told to “speak and act as those who are going to be judged by the law that gives freedom” (James 2:12). This passage reminds us that we are to conduct our business dealings in a way that is consistent with the teachings of the Bible. We are also reminded to “do to others as you would have them do to you” (Luke 6:31). This passage reminds us to treat others with respect and fairness in all our business dealings.

The Bible also teaches us to be honest and truthful in our business dealings. In the book of Proverbs, we are told to “lie not, neither deceive one another” (Proverbs 24:28). This passage reminds us to be honest and truthful in all our business dealings. We are also reminded to “put away falsehood and speak truthfully” (Ephesians 4:25). This passage reminds us to be honest and truthful in all our business dealings.

The Bible also teaches us to be generous and compassionate in our business dealings. In the book of Proverbs, we are told to “give generously to all who ask” (Proverbs 3:27). This passage reminds us to be generous and compassionate in our business dealings. We are also reminded to “do good to all people” (Galatians 6:10). This passage reminds us to be generous and compassionate in our business dealings.
