The Role of the Heart in Ethical Decision-Making in Christianity

The Bible is clear that the heart is the source of our ethical decision making. Proverbs 4:23 says, “Above all else, guard your heart, for everything you do flows from it.” This verse is a reminder that our decisions are rooted in our hearts and that our hearts should be guarded and protected.

The Bible also teaches that our hearts should be filled with the love of God. 1 John 4:7-8 says, “Dear friends, let us love one another, for love comes from God. Everyone who loves has been born of God and knows God. Whoever does not love does not know God, because God is love.” This verse reminds us that our ethical decisions should be rooted in love and that we should strive to love others as God loves us.

The Bible also teaches that our hearts should be filled with wisdom. Proverbs 2:10-11 says, “For wisdom will enter your heart, and knowledge will be pleasant to your soul. Discretion will protect you, and understanding will guard you.” This verse reminds us that our ethical decisions should be rooted in wisdom and that we should strive to make wise decisions.

The Bible also teaches that our hearts should be filled with humility. James 4:6 says, "But he gives us more grace. That is why Scripture says: 'God opposes the proud but shows favor to the humble.'" This verse reminds us that our ethical decisions should be rooted in humility and that we should strive to be humble in our decision-making.

The Bible also teaches that our hearts should be filled with faith. Hebrews 11:1 says, "Now faith is confidence in what we hope for and assurance about what we do not see." This verse reminds us that our ethical decisions should be rooted in faith and that we should strive to have faith in God's plan for our lives.
