The Vietnamese Revival (1990s-present)

The Vietnamese Revival is a period of spiritual renewal and growth in the Vietnamese Christian community that began in the 1990s and continues to this day. It is characterized by a renewed focus on evangelism, discipleship, and church planting. The revival has been credited with a dramatic increase in the number of Christians in Vietnam, with estimates of the Christian population ranging from 5-10% of the total population.

I. History of the Vietnamese Revival

The Vietnamese Revival began in the early 1990s, when a group of Vietnamese Christians began to meet in Hanoi for prayer and Bible study. This group, known as the Hanoi Revival, was led by a pastor named Nguyen Van Ly. The group quickly grew in size and influence, and soon spread to other cities in Vietnam.

The revival was further fueled by the influx of foreign missionaries and Christian aid workers who came to Vietnam in the wake of the Vietnam War. These missionaries and aid workers provided much-needed resources and support to the fledgling Christian community in Vietnam.

The revival also coincided with the fall of the Soviet Union and the end of the Cold War. This allowed for greater freedom of religion in Vietnam, and the revival was able to spread more freely throughout the country.

II. Impact of the Vietnamese Revival

The Vietnamese Revival has had a profound impact on the Christian community in Vietnam. It has led to a dramatic increase in the number of Christians in the country, with estimates of the Christian population ranging from 5-10% of the total population.

The revival has also led to a renewed focus on evangelism, discipleship, and church planting. This has resulted in the establishment of numerous churches and Christian organizations throughout Vietnam.

The revival has also had a positive impact on the social and political climate in Vietnam. The increased presence of Christianity in the country has led to greater religious freedom and tolerance, as well as a greater respect for human rights.

III. Biblical Basis for the Vietnamese Revival

The Vietnamese Revival is rooted in the Bible. The Bible calls us to be witnesses for Christ and to spread the gospel to all nations (Matthew 28:19-20). It also calls us to be disciples and to make disciples of all nations (Matthew 28:19-20).

The Bible also calls us to be faithful stewards of the resources God has given us (1 Corinthians 4:2). This includes using our resources to support and encourage the growth of the church in Vietnam.

IV. Challenges Facing the Vietnamese Revival

Despite the positive impact of the Vietnamese Revival, there are still many challenges facing the Christian community in Vietnam. These include a lack of resources, a lack of trained pastors and leaders, and a lack of legal recognition for churches and Christian organizations.

There is also a need for greater unity among the various Christian denominations in Vietnam. This unity is essential for the continued growth and success of the revival.

V. Conclusion

The Vietnamese Revival is a period of spiritual renewal and growth in the Vietnamese Christian community that began in the 1990s and continues to this day. It has had a profound impact on the Christian community in Vietnam, leading to a dramatic increase in the number of Christians in the country and a renewed focus on evangelism, discipleship, and church planting. The revival is rooted in the Bible, and is an example of God's faithfulness and power to bring about spiritual renewal and growth.

Despite the positive impact of the Vietnamese Revival, there are still many challenges facing the Christian community in Vietnam. These include a lack of resources, a lack of trained pastors and leaders, and a lack of legal recognition for churches and Christian organizations. It is essential that the Christian community in Vietnam continue to work together to overcome these challenges and to ensure the continued growth and success of the revival.

Salvation Prayers : Dear Lord Jesus, I come to you today acknowledging my need for salvation. I confess that I have sinned and fallen short of your glory. But I believe that you died for my sins and rose again. I ask that you come into my heart and be my Lord. I commit to following you and living for you every day. Thank you for your love and for the gift of eternal life. In your name I pray, Amen.
