Introduction

The internet is a powerful tool for evangelism. With the advent of Google and other search engines, it has become easier to spread the gospel of Jesus Christ to a wider audience. Google allows users to search for gospel-related content and find resources that can help them understand the message of the Bible. This article will discuss how Google can be used to evangelise in Christianity and will include bible quotes, headings, multiple choice questions, discussion questions and FAQs.

What is Evangelism?

Evangelism is the act of sharing the gospel of Jesus Christ with others. It is a way of helping people to understand the message of the gospel and to come to a saving knowledge of Jesus. It is the duty of Christians to share the gospel with the world and to bring the gospel to those who have not heard it before.

The Bible and Evangelism

The Bible is the source of all Christian doctrine and is the foundation for evangelism. The Bible is full of passages that speak about evangelism, such as Matthew 28:19-20, which says:

“Go therefore and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, teaching them to observe all that I have commanded you. And behold, I am with you always, to the end of the age.”

This passage is a clear command from Jesus to spread the gospel to all nations. It is the duty of all Christians to obey this command and to share the good news of Jesus with everyone they come in contact with.

Using Google to Evangelise

Google is an incredibly powerful tool for evangelism. With the right search terms, it is possible to find resources on the Bible, Christian doctrine, and the gospel. Google also makes it easier to find websites, blogs, and other resources that can help people understand the message of the Bible. By using Google, it is possible to reach a much wider audience than would be possible through traditional evangelism techniques.

Another advantage of using Google to evangelise is that it allows users to find resources from various Christian denominations. For example, if someone is looking for information about the Catholic Church, they can search for “Catholic Church” and find resources related to the Catholic faith. This makes it easier for people to learn about different denominations and to find the one that best suits their beliefs.

Google can also be used to connect with other Christians. There are many online groups, forums, and chat rooms where Christians can connect with each other and share the gospel. This makes it easier to spread the message of the gospel and to help people understand the Bible.
