God's judgement is an important concept in Christianity. It is the belief that God will judge all people based on their actions and beliefs. The Bible states that God will judge all people according to their deeds and that those who have done good will be rewarded and those who have done evil will be punished.

Another passage that speaks of God's judgement is found in the book of Revelation: "And I saw a great white throne and him who was seated on it. From his presence earth and sky fled away, and no place was found for them. And I saw the dead, great and small, standing before the throne, and books were opened. Then another book was opened, which is the book of life. And the dead were judged by what was written in the books, according to what they had done" (Revelation 20:11-12).
